CANDIDATES ON THE GROUND

Willard, Swanson and Cabell Visit the Horse Show.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) ORANGE, VA., July 26.—Five thousand people packed the grandstand, the parking space around the ring, and even filled the stable tops and fences at the Orange Horse Show to-day. Excursion trains from Chariottesville, Washington and Fredericksburg brought in streams of people during the early morning, while shortly after daybreak a continuous line of country vehicles took possession of every road leading into Orange. It was a good natured crowd that watched the exhibition and the applause was long and generous, especially in the local classes, which aroused the greatest enthusiasm.

Mr. Willard's friends were early on the ground working for his interest for the governorship. He is extremely popular here, and all sides acknowledge that he

The first class of the day was won by the Orange Horse Company's $3,000 coach horse, "Zodler." The horse is an excellent individual and very handsome. Mr. Sanford's "Knight of the Garter," by "Knight of Ellerslie," he by Eolus, won the thoroughbred class, Mr. Banford's victory was popular.

CRAWFORD WAS A PUZŽLE

He Kept the Heavy Batters Guessing and Easily Won-Another Game To-day.

Crawford was the mystery yesterday afternoon at Broad Street Park, and backed up by the busy players from Barton Heights, he let the Staunton team down with three runs and at the same time assisted very materially in pilling up eight tallies for the home boys. Score 8

Over two thousand people saw the visitors get the licking at the hands of Bar ton Heights' aggregation. There was plenty of excitement from the time the game opened until the last man was out. for the boys from Staunton have a mean habit of swatting the sphere even if there are fielders to pull the leather down While Craword kept his hits scattered, he was, nevertheless, hit more often than is usual with teams from the Twin City League. Eight smacks are recorded against him, and but for a sleepy play on the part of First-Baseman Tucker an-doing, and from then on the Barton Heights team had the visitors at their mercy.

In the sixth Staunton made one run, and there was considerable cheering for them. Fuller punched in atmosphere to begin the inning. Craff dropped one down to Bache and there was a fumble. G. Campbell smacked at the microbes, and when M. Campbell sent one out occuter. Hoskins misjudged it, allowing the runner to score. But Hoskins set one in to short and from there it was transferred to third, and M. Campbell took the cemetery road when only one base from the bag that counts. The sixth netted the Barton Heights team two runs, and in the seventh inning they fell on Felser without mercy, and four men came across the plate. Crawford eased back in the eighth inning and allowed four hits, which resulted in two tailles. But this was all. In the game was a clean one, and there was plenty of plays to ring the crowd up from the beginning to end. This afternoon Brooks will work for the home boys, and Jones may be in the box for the visitors.
